

National Biotechnology Week: Sanofi Biogenius Canada Live Forum

Learn more about the 2015 SBC competition by tuning into the SBC live forum, October 1, 2014, 1-1:45pm EDT.

Taking place during National Biotech Week 2014, this live forum is an online event available to the public including students, teachers, sponsors and mentors, featuring a panel of SBC alumni and regional coordinators who will answer your questions about what it's like to participate in the SBC competition and how you can get involved.

Those who are interested in the Sanofi Biogenius Canada competition can watch the live stream and join the discussion by tweeting their questions to #askSBC.

Why should you tune in?

Students: learn about the SBC competition, what to expect and helpful hints!

Teachers: discover how the SBC can benefit your students!

Supporters: realize how you can assist future Canadian researchers!

"The whole SBC experience was one I will never forget and it has forever changed me in the best possible way."

ISABELLE LABECA-GORDON
2013 SBC ALUMNA
